

PROFESSIONAL PROFILE

Randall Dobbins
President
Dobbins International
Business Partner Blueprint

Randall Dobbins is a buyer, a seller, a teacher, and small business owner based in Austin, Texas. He has over 30 years of experience in which he successfully designs, creates, negotiates, implements, and manages strategic partnerships for top companies and his own company.

Prior to the foundation of his own companies, Dobbins International, Inc. and Business Partner Blueprint, he was the National Accounts Manager for one of the world's largest distributors and a Supply Chain Manager for the world's largest integrated petrochemical company.

Through his work, Randall explores the secrets to get through the corporate door. He started his own business in the hope of helping Disadvantaged Business Owners transform their businesses and achieve the goals they have been planning for years. It's his experience, his professionalism, and his genuine personality that makes this program more meaningful than anything you will ever come across
